

CH-F employees take part in casual Fridays

Rene Craven, Robin Johnson, Jennifer Herron and Brad Howe, PT pose for a picture to show how CH-F employees support “casual Fridays,” an activity that raises funds for area causes.

People who visit Community Hospital-Fairfax on the last Friday of every month might think the employees forgot their business attire.

Some of the staff members wear denim and dress casually at the end of the month to support a community wide activity called “Casual Fridays.” Three dollars gets you a pass to dress comfortably and helps a variety of worthy causes. The funds raised for July’s casual Friday go towards purchasing school supplies for kids in need in Atchison and Holt counties. Other funds have been given to fellow employees in need, Relay For Life and area food pantries, among other causes.
